PROJECT OVERVIEW

COURSE CONTENT

The Mandarin Course for foreign students has been running at Yantai University for 15 years. A typical class size is 25 students, and the teaching staff are professors or lecturers who are accredited and experienced in teaching Mandarin to foreign students. The course is designed to immerse international students in the Chinese language and culture.

All areas of the language will be covered in your course: reading, writing, speaking, listening, grammar, phonetics and vocabulary. These will be taught via a variety of topics which will relate to aspects of Chinese culture, society and history.

Each semester there are around 100 International Students enrolled on the course at various levels. Many of these students are from Korea and Japan, and there are also often students from the UK, France and the USA. This project will give you the opportunity to meet people from a variety of different cultures; not just from China, but from all over the world! Some of the courses currently on offer include: Spoken Chinese, Chinese Comprehension (Pinyin, Grammar and Writing, Reading, Chinese Listening Comprehension).

Course Length:

You can choose to do a length of course that suits you, i.e.:

- 4 weeks
- 8 weeks
- The full course, which lasts for one semester. In China, a semester will vary between 3 months and 4-and-a-half months in length.

Course Dates:

There are two semesters every year and the dates each year are approximately as follows, but may vary in some years very slightly:

- 1 September until 24 December
- 1 March until approximately 5 July

You can begin your course at either of these times, regardless of how long you wish to stay, but you must start your programme on one of these two start dates. Winter holiday runs from 25 December to 28 February and if you're doing a programme that includes this period, you can spend this time travelling around China, or doing a self-study course, or private tutoring, whatever you choose to do.

Levels of Study and Course Credits:

Classes are available at various levels, so no matter what your level of Mandarin is, there will be a class to suit you. We can offer beginner, elementary, intermediate or advanced classes. Around 50% of the students on the course are Beginners. The University will assess your level of competency in the language when you arrive and will allocate you accordingly. Regardless of how long your course lasts, you will obtain a certificate at the end of your study time.

Each semester you will also obtain around 20 credits, and these can often be credited to your university course in your home country. [If you wish to take advantage of this option, you must check that your university will recognise this qualification before you leave, as it does vary between institutions.

Daily Schedule:

The course takes place from Monday to Friday, running from approximately 8am to 3:40pm. You will have homework in the evenings, in much the same way as you would during a similar course in most countries, and you will be expected to complete this to the deadline set by your teachers. Your weekends will be free and this will allow some time for relaxing, travelling and sightseeing

National Holidays in China

All projects will break for Chinese National Holidays. The main events are:

- Chinese New Year - usually sometime in late January or early February. All projects will break for 1 or 2 weeks for New Year
- May Holiday – usually the first week of May. Most projects break for 3-7 days
- October Holiday – usually the first week of October. Most projects break for 3-7 days

“I feel like the experience I am gaining while in China is beyond invaluable. Not only am I learning the Chinese language but also, by meeting and making friends with various people from China and many other countries, I am learning so much about differences in cultures from across the globe.”

Louis Potter

“After my great experience in Yantai and making many friends there I intend on continuing my studies in China in the near future.”

ACCOMMODATION

ACCOMMODATION

During your course, you will live at Yantai University Hostel with the other students who are on the course. Currently, the hostel is a four storey building located on Yantai seafront, but the University is in the process of building a second hostel and once this is completed, you may stay in either location.

You will share your room with another person, either a Travellers Volunteer or another foreign student who is on the course at the same time as you. If you prefer privacy and would like a room to yourself, we can arrange this for you, but there will be a supplementary cost involved.

Each room has two beds, a bathroom solely for the use of that room, a table and chairs, plus a telephone and TV. The hostel is a five-minute walk away from the University building in which you will take your classes.

FOOD

On this project, your food is not included in the price of the placement. This is in order to give you flexibility in where you choose to eat and also in planning your budget regarding how many times you choose to eat out in restaurants and how much you want to pay.

There are seven dining halls on campus that serve meals throughout the day and most students choose to eat most of their meals on campus in one of these dining halls. Meals are paid for in cash and are extremely cheap, particularly compared to Western prices. For example, at time of writing, a meals cost between 2 and 5 RMB (currently there are approximately 15 RMB to £1 Sterling or US$1.80).

There are also many restaurants and street stalls in the surrounding area, serving a variety of delicious Chinese and Korean dishes. One of the many pleasures of living in foreign countries is the opportunity to try out different restaurants and the vast array of different types of food.

A good tip in any foreign country is to find out where the locals eat - the food there is usually excellent and reasonably priced!

THINGS TO DO IN CHINA

LOCATION, EXPLORING AND SIGHTSEEING: YANTAI

A busy fishing port which sits on the Shandong Peninsula, North-East China and lies between the Yellow Sea and Bohai Sea, overlooking Korea and Japan. Its 'out of the way' feel makes it the perfect place to experience a slice of provincial Chinese life. The fact that it is seldom visited by foreign tourists makes it an absolutely wonderful place in which to live and study. Here you will REALLY feel like one of the locals.

Yantai is a beautiful seaside town and popular summer retreat, with its fair weather and boundless coasts. Yantai has the flow of provincial Chinese life with a flare of Western restaurants and wonderful tourist sites. A few examples of these are:

Druid's Irish Pub and Restaurant and Jackie's Cuisine; both offer a great selection of Western food and music, thus being the perfect remedy for those moment home sick moments.

Popular Tourist attractions:

Long Island: A unique geographic location, comprising of 32 islands, with over 200 different kinds of birds migrating through the islands each year.

Penglai: Is a very popular tourism destination, due to its magnificent Penglai Pavilion, which has often been referred to as the place of the gods in Chinese mythology and one of the four greatest ancient pavilions in China, perched on a cliff top overlooking a ever changing landscape of ocean.

Nanshan Park: Boasts a range of fun activities: The zoo which has a range of animals including Panda's, a beautiful lake which you can hire paddle boats and an amusement park with rollercoasters and bumper cars.

Yantai Hill: North of the city, is the living museum of Western treaty architecture, telling a story of Colonial-era integration between the British and Americas.

Other attractions here are also Dragon Temple, Beacon Tower and Stone Ship.

Yantai Museum: An architectural wonder, with buildings exquisitely carved and painted by Merchants from the Fujian Province, as a place of worship to the Goddess of sailors. Spaced over 3,500 square meters, it's called "a treasure of carving art" and something that must be seen and experienced.

BEIJING

Beijing is the Capital of China and also its cultural heart. You'll find everything here that you imagine when you think of China... chaotic hustle and bustle, skyscrapers crammed next to temples and plenty of monuments to China's long and complex past. On your project here you'll be among Famous Temples, ancient Hutongs (alleyway communities) the magnificent Forbidden City & Tiananmen Square and the immense Great Wall of China!

In our opinion, some of the highlights of the country are:

The Army of Terracotta Warriors outside Xi'an - 6000 soldiers and horses that were originally designed to guard the tomb of an ancient Emperor. 2000 years old, these warriors were discovered by accident in the 1970s by peasants digging a well! Every figure differs in facial features and expression, and they make for an amazing sight!

Tropical Xishuangbanna - China's very own South-East Asia complete with sunshine, Thai style temples, Dai minority dancing and water splashing festivals! Here you can explore tribal villages on the border with Burma, or trek through the rainforest.

Northern China, along the path of the ruins of the Great wall, also has many sights, and a slightly rough-around-the-edges charm. Here, you can visit the Gobi desert & climb enormous sand dunes in Gansu Province or explore ancient grottoes and caverns full of religious art & Buddha statues at Dunhuang or Datong. You can even spend a night camping out under the stars in a yurt on the epic grasslands of Inner Mongolia. Here you might find yourself taking part in traditional Mongolian wrestling or drinking the local spirit (hopefully not at the same time!)

China's big cities - The economic and cultural centres of this blossoming nation can be found in its 3 big cities - Beijing, Shanghai and Hong Kong. These cities are practically alive with energy and each deserve a visit during your time in China. They represent the glitz and glamour of China's future and everything that's hip in China's new youth, with the rich history of Chinese culture running strongly through them.

The far North-West - Xinjiang Province in the far North-West of China next to the borders with Mongolia & Kazakhstan is a multicultural melting pot of Han Chinese, Uyghurs (the local Muslim people) and Kazakhs. Here you can visit Tian Chi, a lake halfway up a mountain inhabited by nomadic Kazakh people or take part in local grape making in the desert around Turpan
